

MEMBERS-ONLY LUNCH WITH RALPH J BEGLEITER

(Chatham House Rule applies)

During two decades as CNN's 'world affairs correspondent', Ralph Begleiter was the network's most widely-travelled reporter visiting some 95 countries on six continents. He has interviewed many world leaders and covered historic events including the Persian Gulf crisis, and the Middle East peace efforts. He anchored a 24-part series on the Cold War. He currently teaches journalism, communication and political science at the University of Delaware.
